Choosing the right provider for your family – What to look for in an Early Intervention Provider

Children with hearing loss need the right specialist support as early as possible. The following indicators are the recommended best practices for early intervention for children with hearing loss. Getting the right support now can reduce the amount of support your child needs later in life.

The following worksheet highlights the questions to ask and also has a space for your notes.

Are they family centred?

Are they culturally sensitive and inclusive?

ARABIC
URDU INDONESIAN
VIETNAMESE
MANDARIN
